

George Adamson Wildlife Preservation Trust The Mkomazi Project

PHOTOGRAPHIC UPDATE FROM THE FIELD

We wanted to once again say a big thank you to all of you who have supported this project and herewith a few photos to give you all a quick glimpse of some of the events over the past few months.

September 2017

Tony with the former Chief Park Warden for Mkomazi National Park, Donat Mnyagatwa, and the new Chief Park Warden, Marco Meoli.

Tractor and trailer delivering browse to the rhinos in the drought.

Delivery of Mkomazi Rhino Sanctuary fence posts.

Aerial view of the new Superbowl dam being constructed by GAWPT and TANAPA in Mkomazi National Park.

CAT D4D bulldozer being taken out to site.

New-look tracker dog kennels with the four dog handlers.

From left:
Penieli, Joshua,
Jonathan and Isaya.

Ted van Dam greets Jabu (ex Dvur Kralove Zoo, Czech Republic).

African wild dog programme – evening feed.

← Elisaria brings in a teacher group and a student group to visit the environmental education centre with our 'Rafiki wa Faru' programme. ↓

A page of the activity booklet handed out to all the students.

A morning's drive through Mkomazi National Park

August 2017

For all of you who have visited and supported Mkomazi over all of these years, from the early days at the beginning of the project in 1989 when Mkomazi was in such a degraded state, herewith some glimpses of wildlife seen on a recent drive through the National Park.

Zebra!

Elephants

Kongoni

Waterbuck

Giraffe

Eland

And more elephants

All of this field work can only be carried out because of the incredible support, good will and generosity that we receive from you all. Thank you all.

Tony Fitzjohn
Field Director
George Adamson Wildlife Preservation Trust

Contact:

George Adamson Wildlife Preservation Trust
16a Park View Road
London N3 2JB
United Kingdom

Tel: +44 (0) 20 8343 4246

Email: info@georgeadamson.org

Website: www.georgeadamson.org

Registered Charity No: 279598